

Cooperation of Volga State University of Technology

and The Aristotle University of Thessaloniki

Staff of the Jean Monnet Centre of Excellence of Institute of Forestry and Nature Management of Volga Tech undertook a traineeship at the Centre of Excellence of Forest Management and Remote Sensing of Aristotle University in Thessaloniki (Greece).

Volga Tech team met with representatives of the administration, leading professors and Dean of Faculty of Forestry of the Greek University. An agreement was reached to continue cooperation between our Universities in the matter of conducting joint summer schools, conferences, development of joint Master's degree programmes, and participation in project activities within the framework of the Erasmus+ European programme. In particular, the Aristotle University is the coordinator of the application for a new large pan-European project in the direction "Capacity Building in the Field of Higher Education", in which Volga Tech, as well as other universities and organizations of the European Union, Russia and China, participates.

Greek colleagues plan to attend the international conference on the basis of Volga Tech, organized by the Jean Monnet Centre of Excellence of Institute of Forestry and Nature Management in May this year. Similar projects and agreements are major part of strategic programme for internationalization of the Volga Tech and development of its international relations.

The trip and traineeship of the Volga Tech staff was carried out with the support of the EU.
